GREETINGS – for the 69th Annual general meeting and luncheon.

ANZAC DAY 25th APRIL 2014 ACTIVITIES

OUR REUNION LUNCHEON

The good news is that it will be held at the same venue i.e. Seasons Botanic Garden 348 St Kilda Rd from 11AM to 3PM on ANZAC Day, and the price will again be $45 each member. The not so good news is that we only have half the room for our meeting. However, with your help we will have the usual 1st class gathering.

THE MARCH

Our assembly point this year is on the east side of Swanston St between Flinders Street and Flinders Lane. That is the St Pauls Cathedral side. The assembly time is from 9.15AM, and the step off time is 9.45AM. We have ordered a car to transport any member who cannot manage to march the distance – for any further information on transport please ring David Hall on 0412714840.

MINUTES OF THE 2013 68th ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING and Luncheon AS NOTED

Venue: Seasons Botanic Gardens, 348 St Kilda Road, Melbourne. A convenient location for members to meet following the ANZAC Day March to celebrate and reminisce socially over lunch and to meet to conduct – the 2013 Annual General Meeting.

Meeting: Chairman and President Ted Young opened the meeting and warmly welcomed the Members, and Affiliates. Happy birthday to Allan Williams who turned 96 on April 24th. Ted read a letter written by Allan about how he nearly missed the 10th Field Ambulance. Ted extended a special welcome to Don Thurlow and family joining us from Adelaide.

Apology: Presented by Trevor Ward

Members: Jack Allen, Jack Bacon, Ivan Goldsmith, Ken Trafford, Cliff Watkins, Les Williams.

Affiliates: Lil Bacon, Margaret Biffin, Norma Bachelor, David Bachelor, Lynette Blackwood, Janice Cherry, Anne Cooper, Wendy Cope, Jane Davey, Graham Davey, Ronald Davey, Peter De Jarlais, Mark Englefield, Olive Gordon, Margaret Holmes, Rhonda Holmes, Brendon Holmes, Heather McKenzie, Carolyn Macleod, Pamela McMillian, Meryl Patrick, June Rea, Michael Rea, Vivian Rea, Marjorie

Stanley, Chris Trafford, Glad White, Heather Wilkinson, Trish and Jim Nilsson, Beaumaris Campus Sandringham College.

Loyal Toast: Members stood in respect for the Queen and Australia, proposed by Chris Martin.

Remembrance Roll of Honour: Roll has been updated and was on view.

Remembrance: A period of silent reflection was observed as Wendy Ward, Julie Mayberry, Vicki King and Chris Martin read the Honour Roll, containing names of past Members. The Last Post Reveille brought our thoughts together followed by the Tribute: they shall grow not old, as we who are left grow old. LEST WE FORGET.

Welfare: Wendy Ward presented a report on the welfare of members and affiliates: sadly, life member, David James, passed away on the 16th April 2013. The unit was represented at his funeral this week. Brendon Holmes is recovering from a cycling accident and sends his apologies. Rhonda Holmes sends her apologies as she is caring for her mother at Woodend.

Jack Allen is having trouble walking and therefore unable to attend. Jack Bacon is also having leg trouble and finds walking hard. Les Williams has had a hip replacement and is currently in St George's Kew, but we are delighted to see him here today. Ken Trafford entered hospital some time ago. Ken Stanley was in hospital but we are glad he is able to be with us today.

Motion: that we donate $300 to legacy. Carried unanimously.

Chris Martin reported on the links established with Sandringham College Beaumaris Campus.

General Business:

Don Thurlow presented a report on Ambon, based on a recent television program. Thank you to Victoria Woff for establishing the unit's website: www.10thfieldambulance.com

President Ted entertained with poetry.

Meeting Closed

President Ted thanked all for attending on the day. Meeting closed 3:05pm

Toast To The Unit ANZAC Day 2013 – Prepared by Ken Stanley and spoken by Rob Stanley

Introduction – Mr President, Committee and unit members Friends of the 10th Field Ambulance It is an honour to be able to represent my father today in proposing the toast to the unit. It's a strong attendance we must continue to acknowledge the unit and its members and the past. Dads theme for the toast today is mateship a critical element for the guys at war. What strength the guys realized thru true mateship.

Main speech – Ken is frequently moved by article on mateship, in the book – “Care, Courage and Camaraderie”, as masterly expressed by the late Alan Sharp in 1977 Quote “the 10th Field Ambulance earned for itself a proud record of achievement during the during the Second World War. It is true that any organization is only as strong as its leaders, and the people they lead. The 10th Field Ambulance was indeed fortunate in having the caliber of officers and men who worked together so closely and intelligently over a long period of time. Lets us take their journey – Ken and Alan met in 1941 when they were both playing cricket for the Camberwell Sub District Team. However, their season was cut short by the Japanese bombing Pearl Harbour. 18 year old boys, were called up on December 30th 1941, to the Surrey Hills Drill Hall, transported to Royal Park for 2 days then on to the Seymour Boys Town Camp where they spent the next 3 weeks in tents with daily marches around the area, after which time they were drafted into the 10th Field Ambulance. Alan and Ken were both posted to HQ company, and appointed as nursing orderlies. Training now became more intense with more emphasis on the medical side from the doctors. On March 27, 1942 the unit marched to Bonegilla, just outside Albury. It took them until April 9th to arrive a trip that takes 21/2 hours today. Two months on – the unit moved north to Maryborough for a further 8 weeks training. Then onto Brisbane where they boarded 2 Dutch vessels bound for Port Moresby in PNG, arriving November 28, 1942. Now in PNG about 40 medical staff were sent to the 2nd/9th Australian General Hospital with over 1000 patients of sick and wounded from fighting zones inland from Port Moresby. They were issued with 2-man tents and allocated hillside lots and in the wet season and as well this hospital had male orderlies, sisters and nurses. A new experience for them all! Was there a hot lips??? They were there for about 31/2months. Other personnel were sent to places which included Buna, Gona and Sanananda over the Owen Stanley Range to the north side of the island. They had a very trying time in the steamy environment, especially the doctors who were operating in open tents. Also consider the stretches bearers and the “fuzzy wuzzy angels” in the mud and long grass. While on the south side of the island – the camp hospital at Oro Bay, was opened on February 5, 1943. As its peak it housed 228 patients in 10 wards. The sinking of the SS Jacob was an experience none should endure. This was real mateship under extreme circumstances when your life depends on it the drowning of Bruce Pascoe, the first casualty of the unit, is documented in “Care, Courage and Camaraderie”. On the 8th March a formation of nine Japanese bombers with fighter escort flew over the camp. We later learned that these aircraft had just bombed and sunk the Jacob, a vessel bringing stores and personnel to Oro Bay from Port Moresby via Milne Bay. On board were twelve 10th Field Ambulance personnel returning to the unit after having been evacuated sick to the 2/9th A.G.H. in Moresby. The sinking took place about 20miles from Oro Bay. The Jacob was accompanied by a corvette, HMAS Bendigo, which picked up the survivors who had spent about 30 minutes in the water. There were three casualties including Bruce Pascoe from unit who was trapped by large refrigerators on deck moving when the ship listed. This was our first death in action.

A first-hand account of the sinking of the Jacob is given by Ken Stanley:- “in February 1943, 12 of us, namely Cpl Doug Clemens, Claude Capstick, John Lawrence, Harry Mead, Ted Monot, Wally Page, Noel Norton, Bruce Pascoe, Bill Shepherd, George Williamson, Dick Jones and myself, who had stayed at Pt Moresby due to illness or other reasons, were together at Murray Barracks waiting to join you at Oro Bay.

We flew to Milne Bay and waited there a few days. On Sunday the 7th March 1943, we prepared to embark on a boat for Oro Bay. When we arrived at the wharf in the early afternoon the S S Jacob was already proceeding out of Milne Bay with a corvette escort. Some small ship came alongside the wharf and on instructions we boarded it and headed for the Jacob, a 2,500 ton cargo boat. When we reached it a rope ladder – really Jacob's ladder – was thrown to us, so we clambered up on to the deck. There were about 15 other Aussies and a couple of Yanks on the deck, so we found a shady spot under a tarpaulin awning.

The Jacob had at least six refrigerated units approximately six ft by six by six ft. on deck for food, headed for Oro Bay, along with cargo on deck and below. I can still remember chatting with Bruce Pascoe – who the next day was to be our first casualty – as we admired another beautiful New Guinea sunset. About midday on Monday the 8th March we received a great shock as the Jacob was struck by some bombs without warning. We then saw some Japanese bombers heading your way after welcoming us in this unusual manner. I, and I expect the others were dressed only in shorts, socks and boots. I grabbed a life jacket and a tin hat and waited instructions from the ship's Captain, a Dutch man. Such instructions never came. At least one or two bombs went down the funnel and started a fire in the engine room. Nobody on deck appeared to be injured. The ship's gun crew took up a position at the rear gun in case the planes returned. I cannot recall much of the next few minutes while we waited. Then Jacob started to list and with that some of the Lascar crew thought it was time to abandon ship – so we followed. I remember jumping overboard and losing my tin hat as I hit the water. Being able to swim, I struck out to get away from the suction of the sinking ship. I think John Lawrence experienced that. As the ship disappeared the refrigerators floated, as did some life rafts and many cases of tinned fruit. I used one of these cases to assist me.

You've heard it said that a Captain always stays with his ship – this captain did and was in the only lifeboat that was that was afloat. The 100-plus Lascar crew clung to any wreckage they could use. The corvette, HMAS Bendigo came to our rescue about 45 minutes later in case the planes returned during that time. After all had been brought to the Bendigo, we realized that Bruce Pascoe was missing.

The Bendigo crew told us that the Jacob started to list 13 minutes after the bomb hit her and completely disappeared within two to three minutes. One of the other Aussies who was picked up was severely wounded and I could only try to comfort him before he died. He was buried at sea at about sunset that night in a very simple but moving and impressive ceremony conducted by the Bendigo's captain.

The Navy really looked after us that night and next morning as they took us back to Milne Bay. When we were put ashore at Milne Bay I was only in shorts and boots and was roundly dressed down for losing my pay-book. I got a new one nine months later with a much improved bank balance.

We caught up with you at Oro Bay some days later. Let me conclude with a cutting from the Melbourne "Argus" dated 9th March 1943. K. Stanley.

An appropriate and touching memorial service for Bruce Pascoe was held by Colonel Palmer.

Story of the Captain – which way is up Add lib ORO BAY – How the guys managed the day to day ordeal. As there was no air strip at Oro Bay it made the evacuation of patients difficult. The only way out was by boat – small or large or whatever was available at the time. A small fishing boat could only take 2-3 patients with an orderly, travelling by night and hiding by day. The guys travelled this way on a number of occasions. Before Oro Bay closed on September 27, various groups of doctors and staff were heading eastward following the fight treating the sick and wounded, going to Morobe, Salamona and Lae. After 3 months stationed at Lae the unit moved on to Dreger Harbour and then onto Finch Haven arriving May 23rd, 1944. From here they were then taken by ship to Brisbane and train to Melbourne for three weeks leave after 18 months in the jungles of PNG. After leave they were sent to the Atherton Tablelands for 9 months of training before going to Borneo on July 1st, 1945. Their target Balikpapan which had been flattened by a 250 ship armada. Just consider the thoughts going thru their minds World War II finished on August 14th, 1945. The unit remained in the island arriving in Ambon on September 27th, 1945 to find a few Australian prisoner of war survivors. Thousands of Japanese were rounded up to clean up the island, then shipped out who knows where. Going home day to Australia was fixed for January 21st, 1946. The Ambonese people jammed the docks for a marvelous farewell. They finally arrived home on February 18th, 1946. Ken wasted no time on his arrival home he was married to Marjorie on February 28th. What a wonderful day and Ken is still with Marjorie after 67 years. With his mates by his side – Corporal Alan Sharp as his best man and Sergeant Clem Winchester his groomsman. Friends that stayed together for time. Quotation from Care, Courage and Camaraderie p230. "Mateship"

We are indebted to Alan Sharp who has expressed so ably the mateship which, having it 20's beginning in the war years, has continued now for over 50 years and still exists in the remaining members of our unit. In 1977 Alan wrote "the spirit of comradeship has continued throughout the years, and the strong bonds developed through the war are still very much evident today. Friendship made so long ago has consolidated and grown over the intervening years, and in many cases, have spread to the families of members. Inevitably, time and illness have taken their toll and we remember those very fine men who have now passed on. However, those of us who have been privileged to continue, acknowledge a genuine regard held for one another, past and present. Will you please be upstanding and charge your glasses and drink a toast to the 10th Field Ambulance.

Subject: Greetings and memories of many happy Army picnics

I have just seen the recent film The Railway Man and almost finished the book by Eric Lomax. It has brought back memories not of the war years but of the friendship formed during that time and further on into peacetime. I remember fondly the many army picnics 40+ years ago and the ANZAC Day marches with Dad marching so proudly and Mum meeting the woman near Princes Bridge wearing an awful T shirt with "Tit bits" on the front.

Regards Rosemary Stiglich

Response: Lovely to get your email through our Website Rosemary. For the record your father Jack was one of the early members of the 10th and he was a committee member for many years after the war. I will send you a copy of this years 10th Tit bits.

Greetings members – wonderful to see the 10th Field Ambulance web-site in action.

Apology as unable to attend the March this year due to a broken leg (femur in 2 places) on the mend with titanium rod in right leg from hip to knee, doing stipulated exercises and just about able to walk without assistance assistance .. Doctor Professor Harris advised my Physio today "X-ray excellent – united now no restrictions/disregard stick when safe".

Am sure you will have a fantastic day on Anzac Day; to clear up the Toast to unit the chaps I join on ANZAC Day at Campsite RSL for the Toast to 12th Field were with 16 Platoon D Company 2 R.T.B. Puckapunyal 2nd Intake 22nd April 1970 – I then went on to 102 Field Battery 8 Medium Regiment – but celebrate ANZAC Day with the RTB lads in the main.

Subscription on the way by post; congratulations on the web – site its a very good one. All the very best regards,

I nearly Missed the 10th Field Ambulance By Allan (Leonard) Williams

When war commenced in 1939 I was employed by G.J. Coles & Coy in the Buying Records Department of their Head Office. This office kept all the records of buying and selling goods.

Mr A.W. Coles commenced in 1940 to set up the Australian Army Canteen Service. They brought and arranged distribution of goods to all army canteens.

The whole organisation was planned and set up in our office mainly by volunteer overtime. Some buyers joined the service. I become a volunteer and worked at night. I was asked if I would join the canteen service but I refused.

During 1940 I became a qualified accountant and was asked would I volunteer to work for the navy office on 2 nights from 6pm to 9pm to assist them in personnel records and general accounting. So I agreed and was now working all day and 3 hours each night for 5 days per week.

Then Mr A.W. Coles was appointed chairman of the Rationing Commission and he took staff from our office to set up his new office. I was asked to join but said 'no'. I wanted to be in the Army as my Dad was in the First World War.

During 1940 I worked all day and nearly every night so had a busy time. In late 1940 all males 18-30 years old had to register for war service. I was called to attend a camp at Seymour with the 10th Field Ambulance from early January 1941 to 23rd April – a 3-months camp. So I did not escape my duty with the Army.

Subject: Titbits

Hi, congratulations on an excellent website!

A few days ago I emailed a 'titbit' from Allan (Len) Williams which was too late for the newsletter for Anzac Day.

Allan had a hip operation at Christmas and is recuperating in St George's hospital, Cotham Rd Kew.

The doctors have assured him that he will be able to attend the Anzac Day reunion for the 10th Field Ambulance – which is something for him to look forward to.

Would it be possible to somehow include his 'Titbit' titled 'I nearly missed the 10th field ambulance....'? Maybe as a loose sheet available for everyone.

Allan will turn 96 on 24th April 2013, which is an added cause for celebration.

Marcia Watts (King)

Dear Ted and all the members, I hope you have all had a great day so far and enjoyed the march. Although your numbers have dwindled in the last few years I would like to assure you all that our family (the King family) will continue to hold your banner high. Brad and Justin respect this unit and are always very proud to take care of the banner and carry it each Anzac day.

We now have five great grandsons of Bob King who are showing a great interest in the march, Jackson and Devin Waight boys who are four and six years old taking part as well.

I am very proud of my family of my family and I can just imagine the pride my dad (Kruger King) would have felt. My love to all of you and hope you continue to enjoy YOUR Anzac day. Marcia Watts (King)

David Bachelor JP

Dear Members, Enclosed is my membership renewal as an Affiliate member of the Association. Again please accept my apology for my inability to attend the AGM and luncheon. As I explained in previous years I am unable to attend the Annual March and Luncheon as I have a permanent commitment in Kyneton and Woodend on Anzac day as I am responsible for road closures and traffic management in those towns to ensure the attending veterans can march safely down the main streets. However, the 10th is always on my mind at this time and I still wear replicas of Dad's medals on my uniform. I hope the day is a good one for all involved. All the best, David J Bachelor JP

Lynnette Blackwood (Nee McKenzie)

To you all, thank you again for sending me the 47th Tit Bits and for your invitation to be with you on Anzac Day but sadly I am unable to attend then do accept my heartfelt apology. I will be with you all luncheon in thought and spirit. I congratulate you on your great publication. The photograph of you all says so much – so proud so 'spick spat' the way the 10th Field Ambulance has always been. I know how my father thought of all of you. I remain very sincerely Lynnette Blackwood.

P.S. I was very proud of what was written about my father in this Tit Bits No. 47. He was a great Medical Practitioner and disciplinarian – we do still have "the stick" with the silver Knob and know exactly how well trained you would have been. Thank you - Good Cheer to you all.

Rob de Jarlais

Dear Ron, thanks for the T.T.B No47. Great photo! Willy, who attended the luncheon last year (and my other half) made a simple sandstone memorial for my Dad. It was made some years ago and is etched with "ROY" and sits on a rock post in the garden at Bingara (Northern N.S.W) We have a modest holiday up there. When I reflect by that stone I remember the 10th's warmth in comradeship. Willy and I leave for the U.K. on the 18th of April so will miss the Luncheon. Rob de Jarlais

Carolyn Macleod

Thanks for the 47th edition of TTB! A lot of work by all, which is much appreciated. Its great the unit has a website. Hopoefully the Sharp family can add some pics in the near future. All the best Ron and fellow unit members. Yours, Carolyn Macleod.

BITS & PIECES

99 Years ago, thousands of brave young men went ashore on a foreign beach in a far distant land.

In a display of courage, determination and mateship, these Australians and New Zealanders created a legend which, when retold today, evokes pride and passion in a new generation of Australians.

Next year will mark the Centenary of ANZAC, a milestone of special significance to all Australian. During the Anzac Centenary we will remember not only the original ANZACs who served at Gallipoli and the Western Front, but commemorate more than a century of service by Australian servicemen and women. To find out more about the ANZAC Centenary program visit www.anzaccentenary.gov.au
We welcome your suggestion for our celebrations at our 2015 annual meeting.

EDITORS RANT (Ron Woff):

I draw your attention to the front of Tit bits where you will see that to continue our association we must have the following appointments filled – secretary – assistant secretary and Vice president. We are indebted to our treasurer Trevor Ward and welfare officer Wendy Ward who have really kept things going during the last year. We also thank Chris Martin for acting as Secretary for the early part of the year before taking up a teaching position in Vietnam. That is how the vacancy occurred. It won't be many years before the running of this association will be completely in the hands of the affiliates so please give your thoughts to the future.

Ron Woff and Sarah Goode.
